

"Strictly speaking, astrology is a means, not an end. It is used to calculate the cycles of time, to reveal their meanings, and to foresee certain events. Armed with this knowledge, human beings have the capacity to avoid or reduce suffering. This applies at both the collective and the individual level. Astrology is a practical discipline intended to reduce suffering and uncertainty, which are the lot of beings wandering in the cycle of existence. The correct motivation for an astrologer is none other than compassion—without that, astrology falls to the level of the ordinary disciplines."

P. Cornu, Tibetan Astrology

Suzanne Greeven has been practicing Astrology for 25 years. She has been studying various systems of Astrology (Western, Vedic, Chinese & Tibetan methods) in depth and has been working with clients in Europe and Australia since 1982. Her main intent is applying astrology to everyday life so it becomes a simple and accessible tool independent of irrational superstition or rational science. Over the years she has developed a special interest for astrology as a diagnostic method for all medical issues.

Astrological Counselling

practical guidance
in everyday life

Fundamental needs of the human mind do not change. The insights of astronomy-astrology helped human beings live in harmony with their environment, long before science came to rely on invasive tools. Astrology is based on the art of observing gross and subtle relationships between heaven, earth and man. Traditionally astrology was used for diagnosis and prediction, in fact, most doctors were skilled astrologers and governments would consult astrologers to make decisions that would affect many lives.

The strength of astrology is its wealth of experience, and special ability to recognise a person's unique outer and inner circumstances. We live in a world that often depends on generalization alone, e.g. a variety of coughs are classified as only asthma, different forms of grief or sadness are treated as only depression.

Astrology distinguishes and honours individual circumstances by understanding the root causes of difficulties or disturbances; it looks to the true potential of a person to restore their inherent healing power; and supports their well-being by providing antidotes that are tailored to the specific needs and situation.

In being human, we are all the same. On that level, none of us are strangers. There are no fundamental differences between any of us. You experience many emotions; some emotions help you, others hinder you. The same is true for me.

Suzanne offers counselling based on the wisdom and methods of ancient astrology.

Your chart is like your fingerprint. It reflects tendencies and patterns that are a result of past actions. They are expressed in the form of habits that can be problematic or beneficial. It also means that there is nothing like a fate controlling us in the absolute sense. Applying mindfulness and gaining insight into suffering will return your own ability to change and transform your life.

As a result, whatever is happening in your life, good or bad events, training your mind to become aware, open and flexible, will give you the strength needed to successfully deal with any circumstances as they arise.

Services & fees:

Exploring the natal chart in three 1 hour sessions: $ 75 per session.

Sessions will be conducted in the form of a dialogue, exploring layers of understanding yourself and your path. We will discuss topics according to your needs and choice, while encouraging you to re-interpret patterns, and to apply insights and mindfulness in the most practical ways. Training in meditation, breathing and simple exercises may be introduced to help you take care of yourself in the long-term. Included is a prognosis in the form of a predictive life curve that teaches you how to make the best of times of strength and weakness as well as the prescription of antidotes as necessary.

All that is required for a reading is your date / time / place of birth and a brief conversation with me.

NOTE: Charts require a preparation time. All chart interpretations are personal and based on my astrological training and experience. Any advice given is specific and tailored to individual needs. Computer software is exclusively used to produce ephemeris and cast charts. Each session will be recorded as an mp3 file and there will be individually prepared hand outs.
